

Jannelli&Volpi attends the exhibition 100% TOBEUS,
by Matteo Ragni, at Science and Technology Museum Milan
from 5 December 2012 to 13 January 2013

Milan, December 2012

Jannelli&Volpi renews the cooperation and produces the wallcoverings designed by Matteo Ragni with the tobeUS toy cars.

This new project will be presented at the opening of 100% TOBEUS exhibition, where Matteo Ragni will display 100 new car models, some of them shown on the wallcoverings.

Two are the wallpaper patterns used for the space staging of Milan 'Science and Technology Museum', and sold starting from January 2013 on website www.wallpaperondemand.it.

Here on the left the two proposals (positive and negative pattern) which show some of the hundred toy cars drawn by designers invited by Matteo Ragni for his first great Exhibition in Milan.

This is a wallcovering particularly suitable both for kids bedrooms and design spaces.

Jannelli&Volpi | short biography

Founded in 1961, is nowadays one of the Italian leading companies in wallcoverings and fabrics.

2006, the headquarter in Milan becomes one of the most important showroom for wallcoverings and fabrics. The company has been taken by Jannelli family – Mauro, Lidia and Paola – who play the three managing rolls.

2007 opens the JVstore, a concept store by Jannelli&Volpi both commercial reality and space for events and exhibitions dedicated to decoration. It launches on the market the revolutionary proposals WonD-Wallpaper on Demand, customized wallpaper on digital support immediately adapted from the fans of tailor-made decoration.

2009 at Maison&Objet (Paris), was launched the J&V Italian Design brand: wallcoverings for international market focussed on contract world. During the Design Week – Fuori Salone in Milan it presents the first Marimekko by Sirpi wallcovering collection, thanks to a trade agreement between Sirpi (factory of the Jannelli&Volpi group) and the Finnish company Marimekko, with exclusive distribution for Italy by Jannelli&Volpi.

2011 celebrates the first fifty years (1961-2011) by presenting the collection J&V 5x10 Celebration, designed by internationally renowned designers (Paola Navone, Italo Lupi, Giulio Iacchetti, Diego Grandi and Matteo Ragni). In December presents Wallpaper Celebration, by Corraini Editions, a book about the Jannelli&Volpi's fifty years in wallcoverings.

2012 is the WallpapeRevolution year, celebrated with an event at April Design Week – Fuori Salone under the art direction of Matteo Ragni. In October the J&V 5x10 Celebration collection has been selected for the prestigious issue ADI DESIGN INDEX 2012.
